Anne married the love of her life Andy A. Arizala, on May 15, 1965 at the University Lutheran Chapel (ULC) of Ann Arbor. They met as undergraduates and attended the ULC and they baptized their firstborn, Heidi, there in 1971. They have been members of the ULC and St. Luke Lutheran Church for over 56 years. Her favorite pastime hobbies were reading, doing crossword and jigsaw puzzles, computer app games, following current politics and online shopping. The highlight of her life was her interactions with her five grandchildren.

Heidi lives in Redmond, WA with her husband Ken Showman and their two children Harrison (15) and Isabella (13). “ I first met Aunty Anne as a child. She was always nice to me and introduced me to several things which I will always cherish & remember her for. The first one was a book by AA Milne called Winnie the Pooh. A classic book which is still being read today. She even had several cats named “Tiger”, a character from the book. She also gave me a set of dolls called Raggedy Ann & Andy. They were her favorite dolls because their names were the same as her and Uncle. Lastly, she always sent our entire family a fruit cake for Christmas. It was always wrapped in tin foil, then Saran Wrap & followed by a thick yarn bow in either red or green. I think Aunty Anne & I liked a lot of the same things such as books, dolls, fruitcake, lychee and macadamia nuts. Living in Hawaii didn't allow me to spend much time with her, but she still impacted my childhood days with good memories.

“ Andy, I am truly sorry for your loss. Anne was a positive influence in my life. Our years at AAS were filled with stories and laughter. Anne and I were the first ones in the office and were able to have coffee and conversation. Those coffee days continued as we would meet up at coffee shops or I would come by the house for coffee and conversation. I treasured each one of those days! I also remember how you and Anne would save all your travel "goodies" for me. I have many wonderful memories of Anne. I will miss her immensely.
Sending you much love, prayers and thoughts,
